Flea market, meal is lure for meeting

TRENTON - A flea market featuring clothing, toys, appliances, posters and other donated items will take place from 5 to 6 p.m. today at the Donnelly Page Homes Community Center, 875 New Willow St.

The market is hosted by the Mercer County Children's Medical Daycare and the Child Welfare Planning Committee of the state Department of Human Services.

Free dinners will be provided.

Sue Viola, president of Mercer County's Children's Medical Daycare, said they hope the flea market will attract people to the meeting of the Child Welfare Planning Committee.

Viola said the committee, which was created to address the state's child welfare reform plan, wants to hear the issues faced by the community and "what we can do to make it better."

The committee, which will meet from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at the center, for months has been reaching out to concerned citizens in an effort to establish a bridge between DYFS and city residents, according to a release.
